

the support of those in your learning community is like forming a home away from home. It will be an experience that you will appreciate and never forget. – Marasia Moss, FYE 2016 (39)

The best part of my learning community experience at UNCG is becoming close to my professor and also making friends that I feel are as close as family. - Matthew Pollock, SUS ENT 2015 (14)

Every incoming student should definitely join a learning community! You will love it! Sophia Wilson, UNCG Teach 2016 (4)

Not only did I make some really good friends in my learning community, I also learned so much about myself and UNCG. It was a great experience. Robin Holde, Exploratory Studies 2016 (2)

I would tell [future students] that being part of a learning community is probably the best choice I made about college, because it set me up for success in every aspect of college. Jordan Mower, Ashby Residential College, 2016 (5)

My experience in my learning community has been great. I have learned a lot from not only professors, but from fellow peers within my community as well. The learning community is just what it says, "a community." A community where you will make life long friends and have unique opportunities that you most likely would not have outside of a learning community. Tiffany Crosby, SUS ENT 2015 (16)
